Deliver us from evil! Another one of these infernal "college" movies, and we'll give Briggs another subject for his cartoon series, "Events Leading Up To The Tragedy."

We can stand four forward passes in the same series of downs, but scoring two touchdowns in four minutes does seem a little too much to hope for. The only fault we find with such movies is that their directors are never on hand to do their stuff at the G. W. C. U. games. We'd make it worth their while to stage an exhibition of that kind, and what's more, it would be more of a miracle than the movie even.

Thank heaven for one thing, however, and that is that the public, maybe because of Dean Doyle's questionaire of recent fame, is becoming aware of the hokum that exists in so-called "campus" photoplays. The kindness of the coach, who gently chided his team during the half for failing to score caused even the most dull to snicker.

And they laughed out loud when the heroine protested that she had never been kissed. Which might mean several things, but to us it means that the real story of college life, with its tragedies of late hours, of failed examinations, of broken dates, of petty jealousies, of boring lectures, and of exasperatingly unexpected quizzes, has never been written. When such a yarn, its carefree minutes of gin, whoopee, and rah rah, placed in true proportion to the thoughtful hours of preparation, recitation, and examination, comes into being, its sale will be phenomenal among the college folk, and it may run for years on Broadway on their patronage alone.

These editors in session last week didn't make so much noise, but what that group of 36 write is read by 53,000 subscribers, and goodness only knows how many more in schools where payment for the paper is not carried as one of the benefits from a University fee. The whole association reaches a quarter of a million college students and their friends and relatives, which is not so bad, not so bad.

The Chi O's rigged up some cots in their new rooms for the visiting women attending the newspaper convention, but it seems that moths had been alternately dozing and eating on the cots during the preceding months, and had weakened the fabric. A delegate started to slumberland, only to have the journey terminate on the floor. Just consider, what would have happened if the cot had been a double-decker.

Some of the delegates had temerity enough to go sight-seeing in cars driven by Theta Deltas. Two hours later they staggered from the autos after participating in 35-mile-an-hour races down Connecticut and Massachusetts Avenues three abreast, and careening around corners on a wheel or so. More thrills they asserted were found than in the S. A. E-Phi Sig game the night before.

Coming back to improbable movies, some director would have made a fortune filming that game. Even a story book couldn't have done better. Phi Sig led by two points at the quarter, S. A. E. was two points ahead at the half. They were tied at the third quarter, and Burgess, of the Sig Alpha, was fouled as the final whistle blew, with the score standing thirty all. As we view the matter, Phi Sig made its error in fouling Burgess, who shot the goal, and gave the Sixteenth Street lads something to be thankful for, tomorrow.

We've heard "Hail to the Buff and Blue" played at two dances this week already, which shows that even orchestras now know that George Washington and Georgetown are separate institutions. The age of miracles is not over.

Every word comes to a stage where it will turn. Eds and co-eds take The Hatchet to task for this that or the other thing, but after all, a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. The Hatchet received honorable mention (tied for second place) in the general makeup and news contest conducted by the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, and the editorial which bawled out fraternities for their rushing methods was accorded a like honor in the editorial contest.

Tomorrow we can compare the varsity and the frosh on the same field, and at the same time we can see what effect our new policy in athletics has when it meets the ancient rivals from Brookland. If things turn out as well as we hope, we shall eat a second Thanksgiving dinner.

And if they don't, we'll wait again until next year.

G. W. IS HOST TO COLLEGE EDITORS AT FALL MEETING

Dean Doyle Urges Journalists to Stress Serious Achievements of College Life

BUCKNELLIAN RECEIVES AWARD FOR EDITORIALS

Hatchet Receives Honorable Mention For Editorials and General Appearance of Paper

Urging college journalists to stress the serious achievements of college life rather than to give sensational reports, Dean Henry Gratfin Doyle, newly elected Executive Secretary of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, told the representatives of the twenty-seven college papers in this association of their responsibility in placing the true college view before the public at a banquet held last Saturday night.

"We cannot blame the press," he said, "for printing only a fraction of the true view of college life if only a fraction is given it. You know of the serious worth-while and important things that college boys and girls are doing and it is up to you to let the press know about these things," Dean Doyle told the student editors.

Dean Doyle was elected Executive Secretary to fill the position left vacant by the death of Dr. J. M. Lee, of New York University. This election took place at a session of the convention of the association held the morning of the banquet.

Awards Are Made

This banquet at the National Press Club closed the two-day program of the annual fall convention of the association held at George Washington University, and was the occasion of the announcement of the winners of the contests for the best editorial of the year, and the paper having the best all-around appearance. Bucknell University had the honor of winning both contests, for which silver cups were awarded by the judges of the contest, Mr. Lowell Mellett, Editor of The Washington Daily News and Gideon A. Lyon, associate editor of The Evening Star. The evidence on which the judges made the awards, consisted of recent issues of the various papers in the association and two editorials, which were submitted by each journal. The Bucknellian and its editorial on "A Better Chapel" were the prize winning evidence.

The members of the winning paper's staff who received the awards were: Kathryn Leach, of Brookville, Pa., William C. Emmett, of Bloomsburg, Pa., and George Van Tuyl, Jr., of New York City.

Editorials which won honorable mention were: Haverford News, "Assimilating Freshmen," and "The College Town"; The George Washington University Hatchet, "Fraternities and Rushing"; The Ursinus Weekly, "O Tempores O Mores"; The Holcad, "Our Taboo on Hazing"; and "Quiet," and The Albrightian, "The Creative Urge," and "The Value of Intercollegiate Debate."

The honorable mention winners in the general news contest were The Hatchet, The Haverford News, The (Continued on page 5)

DELTA PHI ENLARGES GROUP TO TWENTY-FOUR

Installation of National Foreign Service Fraternity Will Be December 14-15

Delta Phi, local foreign service fraternity, which will soon be installed as a national on this campus, held initiation services for eight men at the Phi Sigma Kappa House on Monday evening, November 18.

The men who were formally initiated at that time were Arthur E. Beech, Harold W. Curran, J. Wesley Jones, Tremaine E. Rambo, John R. Thompson, Cecil T. White, Frank Whitehouse and Henry A. Zuberano.

These initiates now bring the total membership to 24 charter members who will be initiated into Eta Chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon, national foreign service fraternity at the installation ceremonies which will be held at the Alpha chapter house of the fraternity at Georgetown University on December 14 and 15.

Petition Accepted

The announcement that the national board of governors of Delta Phi Epsilon had accepted the petition of Delta Phi made to the group at a smoker held at the Georgetown Chapter on October 16. Alpha Chapter was organized at Georgetown University on January 25, 1920, and since then five more chapters have been added in various parts of the United States.

Throughout the period of organization of the George Washington group, the Alpha chapter showed great willingness to cooperate, and the efforts of its national vice president, Dr. Walter C. H. Jaeger, were instrumental in bringing the companion chapter to George Washington.

Midge Burnham and Frank West show, "Gyped in Egypt," authors of the Troubadour and members of the cast.

Chance to Show Students' Confidence in Varsity and Frosh on Eve Of Annual Game

A chance for every student in the University, both men and women, will have an opportunity to give the George Washington football team a real send-off, in preparation for the Catholic University game, at a Pep Meeting to be held in the Gym, Wednesday evening, at 8.30.

Heretofore such gatherings have been restricted to the men in the University, but judging from the cheering which has been evidenced during the home games this year there are just as many loyal co-ed supporters of the team as there are men adherents. With this idea in mind the Colonial Club which is sponsoring the Pep Rally is urging every student to come out this evening, and show his or her loyalty to the football team which will battle both varsity and freshman eleven from the Brookland school.

Assembled for the last time this year at any function of this kind will be all of the members of both varsity and freshman squads, the coaches, headed by James Pixlee, and many members of the faculty, including President Cloyd H. Marvin, Jerry Siskler along with the other cheerleaders will give the assembly a (Continued on page 5)

TROUBADOUR HITS HEARD ON RADIO

Members of Cast Broadcast Over WJSV Every Monday Night at 7.30

NOVELTY NUMBERS GIVEN

Songs from "Sometime Soon" and "Gyped in Egypt," Piano Duets, and Tap Dancing Featured

The Troubadours went on the air for the first time this year over station WJSV at Mt. Vernon Hills, Virginia, last Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The announcer for the Troubadour Hour, after informing his audience that the musical comedy, "Gyped in Egypt," would be held at the McKinley Auditorium, December 12, 13 and 14, expressed regrets that his station was not equipped with television so that listeners might get a view of the charming ensemble.

First to go on the air was Bill Jemison at the piano, with Henry Nestor singing, "If You're Missing Me." In quick succession came the finished voice of Jane Wilson singing Dan Beattie's "I Always Lose My Man," and the pep of Midge Burnham in a whoopee dance number, "Hey, Hey."

Novelty Duets

Bill Jemison and Dan Beattie offered something in the way of a novelty when they played a piano duet, "How Do They Get That Way," that came over the "mike" clear, loud and blue. Many a restless radio dial throughout the city came to a stop and a fine adjustment when Frank West (Continued on page 5)

G. W. Students Charged With Mutilating And Spiriting Away Reference Books

Communications Received by University From Library of Congress and Public Library; Superintendent Roberts Says G. W. History Class Took Away Reserved Tomes and Tore Two Books From Bindings

The superintendent of the Reading Room of the Library of Congress has recently sent an unfavorable reply to a request from George Washington University that certain reference books in French literature be placed on the reference shelves of the Library for the use of G. W. students.

Superintendent M. A. Roberts stated in his letter that last year a class in history in George Washington took away reference books from the Library and tore two of those remaining from their bindings.

The University administration has expressed its regrets that such things have happened, inasmuch as such matters make it extremely difficult for the University to persuade outside organizations to allow G. W. students to use their reference books and other things helpful to them.

The communication from the Library of Congress follows:

November 8th, 1929.

My dear Miss Cornwell: I wish it were feasible to grant your request to place on our reference shelves the books which you have selected for the use of your class in French literature. Our experience, however, last year with a class in history of your University was very unfortunate in that of the books placed on the reference shelves a number immediately disappeared, several permanently, and two of them were torn from the bindings and taken from the Library. Under the circumstances I am certain that you will agree that the suggested plan would not be well to arrange. It might be possible to arrange for use by small groups of your class in charge of one of the students whom you may designate.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) M. A. Roberts, Superintendent of Reading Room. Miss Irene Cornwell, The George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

A similar communication from the foregoing letter was received from the Public Library.

HATCHETITE VARSITY MEETS C. U. CARDINALS AT CATHOLIC U. FIELD

First Three Quarters of Freshman Game Will be Played Before Varsity Battle Gets Under Way, With Final Quarter Between Halves

YEARLING TEAMS PLAY AT TWELVE-THIRTY; BIG TEAM'S CHANCE FOR VICTORY IS SLIM

Pixlee Places Best Men Available in Starting Line-up as Hoffman Recovers From Injuries Sustained in St. Joseph's Game; Many New Plays Have Been Devised By Coaching Staff

In what is historically the biggest game of the year for the two teams, the Buff and Blue Colonials of George Washington University do football battle on the gridiron of Catholic U. Stadium with the Cardinals of Catholic University at two-thirty o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The freshman teams of the two schools will play first, starting at twelve-thirty. The first three quarters will precede the varsity game, with the final quarter played between the halves of the big game.

From the moment the opening whistle is sounded, the battle for blood will consume two hours of real dog-eat-dog football. This is no ordinary contest, but one that is backed by years of long rivalry and which only victory will abate.

GRIDMEN TO BE FETED DEC. 10

Football Banquet at the Mayflower Expected to Bring Out Record Crowd

MARVIN IS AMONG GUESTS

Pixlee Will Announce 1930 Schedule; Features Promised; Teams Will Receive Awards

Final preparations are being made for the Football Banquet to be held on December 10, at the Mayflower Hotel, under the auspices of the Colonial Club, which promises to be one of the largest and most outstanding social events of the college year.

Indications point to a record-breaking gathering of some four hundred people who will attend this affair in the capacity of alumni, faculty, students and members of this year's football teams, varsity and freshman. Never before has any concentrated effort been made to fete the varsity and freshman football teams of the University. The Colonial Club is sparing no detail to make this event the most successful of its kind in the history of The George Washington University.

Tickets on Sale

Ticket distribution is in the hands of Jack Dishman, who has enlisted the aid of members of the Interfraternity Council, the Bursar's Office, the Dean's Office of the Medical School, and the Secretary's Office of the Law School. In addition there are many members of the Alumni Association who have shown a great interest in the banquet and are making every effort to reach as many of their fellow members of the association as are located in Washington and the vicinity.

Navy Coach to Speak

Commander "Navy Bill" Ingram of football fame and head football coach of the U. S. Navy Academy has been scheduled as the principal speaker of the evening. The toastmaster, who has been selected from among several of the more prominent alumni will be announced next week in The Hatchet. President Cloyd Heck Marvin, Provost William Allen Wilbur, Dean Doyle, Dean Van Vleet, Dean Borden and an unusually large number of faculty members have greeted the idea with enthusiasm and have signified their intentions of being present.

The Mayflower Hotel will be the scene of this banquet, having been selected for its ideal facilities for serving such a large gathering and especially for the splendid menu which it has submitted.

Entertainment and Music

Arrangements have been made for a string orchestra to play throughout the evening and to furnish music for the unique entertainment which is scheduled to divert the minds of the group from the purpose of the banquet. This will be (Continued on page 5)

INTERFRATERNITY TEA DANCE SCHEDULED SOON

The annual interfraternity tea dance will be held in Corcoran Hall on Thanksgiving afternoon from 5 to 8 o'clock, immediately following the football games at Catholic University.

Due to the fact that George Washington will play both the varsity and the freshman teams at Catholic University this year on the same afternoon the dance will not begin until 5 o'clock.

Music will be supplied for this dance by the Williams Orchestra, and the price of admission will be one dollar, stag or per couple.

The Hatchetites will once more enter the engagement as the underdog and though chance for victory is slim, some can never foresee to what heights a George Washington eleven can attain on Turkey Day. However, it will be necessary to attain the aforementioned heights tomorrow if victory is to be achieved, for the C. U. gridmen are concluding a highly successful season and are entering this fray with a great deal of confidence while for the Colonials it will be the winning of their first victory of the year.

Colonials Escape Injury If victory should be gained by either team tomorrow, it would be all that is needed to assure a successful year. For the Buff and Blue it will be in the nature of an atonement for the repeated losses suffered this season, and for the maroon eleven it would be the crowning triumph suitable to such a season as they are bringing to a close.

Both coaches have been pointing their charges all season for this game and they are ready to place the best available team on the gridiron. The G. W. team is fortunate in being able to place their best aggregation on the field, while the Catholics will march on the field minus the services of several of their stars.

It is hoped that a large following from the student body will journey out to the stadium tomorrow to lend the team their support, and spur the Pilexmen to victory. The game is being played on the Catholic U. stadium gridiron, and the Cardinals will have a decided advantage in this way. Doubtless, there will be a good-sized crowd from the Brookland school. FRESHMAN ORATORICAL CONTEST ENTRIES END

Many Manuscripts Received For Competition To Be Held December 6

The Phi Delta Gamma Freshman Oratorical Contest, which will be held the first week in December has attracted the attention of a great number of students new to the University, who have entered their manuscripts in the competition.

Friday, November 22, was set as the last date on which the oration manuscripts were accepted by the Registrar. At the final oral contest on December 6, in Corcoran Hall, three orations are to be selected as the outstanding of the evening and from these three a winner will be chosen, and to him will be presented the silver loving cup. The two remaining members of the winning contestants chosen by the judges will receive without differentiation, handsome gold medals. These awards are presented to the winners to be retained by them as permanent awards.

Many Entrants

According to the latest report of those in charge of this year's contest, the number of the orations which were submitted to the Registrar before the final date is greater than last year, and the scope of the papers is even more interesting and varied than the final topics chosen for the last contest.

Ansel Taylor last year won the first award when he held a large audience spell-bound with his splendid talk entitled, "Soldiers of the Sea." His eloquence was matched only by that of the gold medal winners, Joseph Farshes and Juan Quijano.

It is anticipated by the executive committee of Phi Delta Gamma, professional forensic fraternity, that one, and perhaps two eliminations will be necessary before the candidates for the final contest on December 6 can be determined. The executive committee in charge of arrangements also expects the largest audience ever to attend a forensic event at The George Washington University. No admission will be charged.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1929

TOMORROW

Regardless of the reading of the scoreboard following tomorrow's contest with Catholic University, today will be an important one in the history of George Washington athletics, for it marks the passing of the old and the beginning of the new regime.

Game after game has been lost in the past few seasons by teams representing the University—teams doing their best with a system that was next to hopeless. Tomorrow students of the University will observe the end of this policy with no tears, and no regrets. They will witness, so to speak, the ringing out of the old and the ringing in of the new. They will see for the first time the new University policy in athletics compared forcibly with the old.

It is at this time that a complete revision in student thought should take place. The old lethargy should give way to a new interest in an optimistic and progressive policy for the future.

The heart of the student is with the varsity tomorrow, and his hopes for the future rest with the Freshmen.

CHILDISHNESS

Why we behave like human beings is a problem that has puzzled thinkers from the beginning of time. What to us seem strange thoughts lead persons to do one thing, queer quirks of the imagination drive to other actions. But to the serious student of the University there seems to be no sane thought, no fragment of the imagination, that would lead one who presumably seeks knowledge to destroy or deface volumes which point the way to knowledge and truth. Yet complaints come to the University both from libraries for the use of the general public and from those especially used by University students, that certain books and texts which have been assigned as fertile fields for research are being mistreated. To the student who loves his books such an action seems incomprehensible. Vandalism perpetrated on books, particularly those not owned by the one doing the damage, is inexcusable, and should be dealt with severely. Those who have progressed only to the point in their education where their interest is in clipping pages out of books, or in scrawling notes therein should be banished from the college community and sent to the kindergarten where they belong.

THE TROUBADOURS

Among the media for advertising a university, that of dramatic art comes second only to athletics. In this field we may take pardonable pride in the productions of the Troubadours of the last several seasons. Past performances of the producing organization showed an absence of amateurishness and a marked air of professionalism on the part of the cast.

Two years ago we had Sharps and Frats; it was somewhat of an innovation and decidedly a success. Last year we had Sometime Soon; this was an equally great success and brought considerable notice to the University. This year we are promised another musical comedy, Gyped in Egypt, which should add even greater laurels to the University. Particularly hopeful are the plans for the production of this play in nearby towns.

Producing a play of the magnitude of a well-acted and lively musical comedy calls for the devotion of a great amount of time and effort on the part of the authors, producers and principals. Deservedly great is the amount of pride they may take in the result. But more important than that from the broader view is the reflected glory attendant the University they represent.

No great amount of urging is necessary to bring the student body to witness their accomplishments. There is need, however, of advertising the production, which in turn advertises the University. To this end, therefore, it is not amiss to suggest that every student make known among his own circle of friends and acquaintances the fact that the University is presenting this play.

WHILE waiting for Thanksgiving dinner and the "Jamboree" G. W. apparently spends its time at Wardman. Well, who wouldn't? It isn't every day that we can dance to Jan Garber's music and listen to his "talking violin" in the intermission. G. W. students do have something of their own to be thankful for the "Jamboree" given for the first time this year. We expect every fraternity house to be full to overflowing on the night of its open dance.

The fraternities are having a regular "Jamboree" to celebrate Thanksgiving. If you don't know where to go on Friday or Saturday—take heed!

Friday night: Phi Sigma Kappa, 1821 Eye Street, 10 to 1.
McWilliams Music: Kappa Alpha, 1901 R Street, 9 to 12 p. m.

Happy Walker's music: Sigma Chi, 1312 N Street, 10 to 1.

McWilliams music: Sigma Nu, 1733 N Street, 9 to 12.

Delta Tau Delta, 1625 K Street, 10 to 1. Emory Daugherty.

Saturday night: Acacia, 1707 Massachusetts Avenue, 10 to 1.

McWilliams music: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1128 Sixteenth Street, 11 to 1.

Pete Macia's music: Theta Delta Chi, 1714 Rhode Island Avenue, 9 to 12 p. m.

Kappa Sigma, 1803 Nineteenth Street, 10.30 to 1.

Dagmoir music: Sigma Phi Epsilon, 1810 Connecticut Avenue, 10.30 to 1.

Theta Upsilon Omega, 1610 Twentieth Street, 11 to 1. A Lido unit.

Gate and Key Society's first dance of the season will be held at the Kenwood Country Club on Thanksgiving night from 10 until 1, with a well known orchestra engaged to play. Besides the active members three guests have been invited from each of the fraternities. All wandering Greeks who wish to attend are requested to see Bill Licklider, chairman of the social committee, who may be reached at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House.

The Old Dominion Boat Club in Alexandria is giving its annual Thanksgiving Dance on Wednesday evening between the hours of 10.30 and 2.30. Many G. W. students are planning on attending this affair, which promises to resolve itself into a sort of "Varsity Night" with many students home for the week-end from nearby colleges. A six-piece band will furnish the music for this outstanding social event, which has so many University followers.

Among those at supper at the Theta Delta House Sunday night were Kitty Boyken, Dorothy Schenken, Margaret Monk, Margaret Mitchell, Frances Hand, Kitty Beall.

Kappa Beta Pi, Legal Sorority, entertained at supper at the Army and Navy Country Club, Sunday, November 24.

The Grand Lodge of Theta Delta Chi announces the installation of the Psi Deuteron Chapter at the University of California, at Los Angeles.

Sigma Nu announces the formal initiation tonight, of the following: George Groves, George Schmidt, Carter Hubble, Floyd Ormsby, Howard Humphries, Hagen Shea, James Mitchell, and Jerome Anderson.

T. U. O. will entertain at dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

Sigma Mu Sigma will hold a formal dance at the Chapter House on Wednesday night, November 27.

Sigma Phi Epsilon announces the initiation of William Brent Kennedy, of Richmond, Va., on November 18.

Alice Walford was hostess at a breakfast party held at her home last Sunday morning for a group from G. W. which included Eleanor McClure, Bill Licklider, Marian Bailey, Bob Adams, Carolyn Schreiner, Don Iglehart, and Wick Jones.

Unique in its auspices will be the dance to be held at the S. A. E. House tonight in which the pledges of Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon have combined to give a dance in honor of the active chapters of these two fraternities.

Alpha Delta Pi entertained at a tea on Sunday, November 24, in honor of their new Province President, Miss Madge Shepard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thenton Boaz have returned from their honeymoon in Canada and are at home at Corcoran Courts.

Louise Bruce and Judith Steele were seen at the Georgetown Prom the night of November 16.

Catherine Palmer attended the Harvard-Yale game at Cambridge, Mass., November 23.

There was an informal gathering held at the Phi Sig House November 22, after the Phi Sig-S. A. E. game.

Members of Kappa Beta Pi, legal sorority, entertained rushees at supper at the Army and Navy Country Club, Sunday, November 24.

A number of Kappa Sigs journeyed to Lexington for the Virginia-Washington and Lee game. Dan Terrell, Miess Brearley, and Johnny Eldridge reported a marvelous week-end.

Kappa Sigma will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity with a luncheon for all Washington brothers at the City Club on December 10th. William G. McAdoo, Past W. G. M., will speak on this occasion.

Lilly Alpert presented Phi Sigma Sigma with five pounds, when her engagement to Harry Portgang was announced recently.

Marie Siegrist, Eleanor Daniels, and Janet Esch are planning to drive down to Lexington, Va., over the holidays to attend the V. M. I.-V. P. I. game, as well as the dances held by V. M. I.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the initiation of Ruth Schurman and Lillian Rosenfeld on November 23, at the Ambassador Hotel. A banquet followed the ceremony.

Brad Swope entertained at a stag supper at his home last Sunday evening for Don Sickler, Ed Jamieson, Merton English, Jerry Sickler, Wick Jones, Harry Ruddiman, and Don Iglehart.

Jean Kirkwood is going to Annapolis for the Thanksgiving Hop. Afterwards, she will attend the Army-Notre Dame game.

John Owens expects to attend the Army-Notre Dame game on Thanksgiving Day.

Pay Rives, Caroline Blanks, Evelyn Hearn, Laura Hooff, Frances Owen, Jack Wood, Wilfred Hearn, and Wilson Hooff drove to Philadelphia Saturday to a Delta Zeta dance, given by the chapter at the University of Pennsylvania.

Martha Williams will stop over in Philadelphia for the Penn-Cornell game on her way to Washington, where she will spend the holidays.

Caroline Jackson will spend Thanksgiving in Philadelphia, where she will attend the Penn-Cornell game.

Alberta Perley will be given a tea dance by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Perley, at the Mayflower on Thanksgiving Day.

Kappa Kappa Gamma held memorial services in their rooms in memory of Merla Matthews on November 18. Mrs. Matthews presented the Kappa Ritual to the chapter, in the name of Merla Matthews.

Hermione John spent the week-end visiting friends in Philadelphia, and at the University of Pennsylvania.

Delta Zeta announces the marriage of Sally Sanders to Wilmore Harris, Sigma Chi.

The Newman Club gave its Thanksgiving dance Tuesday evening at the National Press Club. The affair was informal and attended by approximately 100 couples. Marceron's Orchestra furnished the music.

MED-ECHOES

The honored ones in this year's junior class, that is, those first two students to be called out on their first obstetrical case, were George "Crutch Palsey" Majirio and Philip "Bottles" D'Amboia. The event occurred at Sibbey Hospital and the result was a pair of twins.

One of the most interesting courses attended by the senior class is that given by Major Whetmore in Army Medical Tactics. Since the beginning of the year the Major has been reviewing all the wars in which America has participated, and has been discussing the medical equipment of the days gone by.

Among the varied forms of instruction that some of the seniors offer during holidays and vacations three may be specially noted. Ara Y. Keller will act as a dancing instructor at the Roseland Gardens, while Lew Gentile will give driving lessons in Brooklyn. Herman Rothman has obtained a position as swimming instructor.

If it is noticed that many of the seniors are walking around with one hand in the air, they aren't fighting for car straps; it's just their way of admiring their new class rings, which are new and original in design. This is the first time the graduating class of the Medical School has had rings different from those of the general university, made expressly for them. Robert C. Boyden, president of the class, has been the moving spirit of the cause.

The "feminine contingent" of the freshman class thought to obtain a name for their cadaver by the synthetic method, using the initials of their first names, but the result was all too appropriate to be acceptable:

G-e-n-e-v-a
R-u-th
A-n-n
S-a-d-i-e
E-d-i-th

They have almost compromised on "Mary Garden."

Lee S. Cardwell and David Quinn, well known members of the senior class, have received their appointments as internes in the Medical Corps of the United States Army.

GLEE CLUB IS ACTIVE

Robert Harmon, director of the George Washington Women's Glee Club, has announced a closed dance that will be held before Thanksgiving, in Corcoran Hall 1.

Carolyn Snyder is president and Grace Bower the recently elected manager of the Glee Club.

New selections for future concerts have been chosen and all members are urged to attend rehearsals. The manager announces that members, after two absences, will forfeit membership.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. And every day in the year 8 million people stop a minute, refresh themselves with this pure drink of natural flavors and are off again with the zest of a fresh start.

S. A. E. Wins Basketball Championship

S. A. E. CAPTURES CUP IN INTERFRATERNITY GAME

Burgess for S. A. E. and Zahn and Castell for P. S. K. Make Game Exciting for Large Crowd in Final Game of Tournament

GAME DECIDED IN LAST MINUTE

Phi Sigma Kappa Defeats Kappa Alpha in Extra Game Played to Decide Championship of League A; Each Had Won Four and Lost One in Regular Season Play

In one of the most exciting and closest basketball games played this year S. A. E. defeated P. S. K. for the Interfraternity Cup by the close score of 31 to 30. The game was hard fought and close throughout. At no time during the game did either team have over a four-point lead, and then for only a minute.

Burgess starred for the S. A. E.'s, collecting 20 of their 31 points. His greatest asset was in shooting foul shots, since he made every foul shot attempted. Throughout the game Burgess was master of the situation. His quick and accurate passing and unerring aim for baskets showed him to be the mainstay of the S. A. E. team.

Burgess, an S. A. E. pledge, has well earned all praise given him. He has played with two championship high school teams at Central, one of which won the Penn Tournament one year, and one which played to the semi-finals the following year. Last year while playing for American University he made District Collegiate forward, besides playing with several independent teams about town.

Zahn and Castell were the sterling lights of the Phi Sig team, counting 14 and 12 points, respectively. These light but fast players were in every play, intercepting passes and making points at every opportunity.

Castell and Perry bid well to make positions on the Varsity team, and Burgess and Zahn for positions on the freshman team, although the light weight of Castell and Zahn rather handicap them.

The attendance at the game showed the intense interest displayed in the two teams, not only by the fraternities involved, but by the other fraternities on the campus and some outsiders. The vocal support given the two teams was well displayed all through the game.

The first few minutes of the game gave the onlookers an idea of how close the game was going to be. At the end of the first quarter the score was 8 to 6 in P. S. K.'s favor. Burgess in the second quarter came well to the fore by chalking up 6 points and S. A. E. took the lead at the end of the first half 16 to 14. It was nip and tuck through the next quarter with S. A. E. still leading at the end 22 to 21. In the final quarter, Phi Sig came to the front again with the fighting spirit so characteristic of them.

In the last few minutes of play the Phi Sig held the lead, but Burgess again shone for S. A. E. by making a basket and 3 foul points. Proctor made a basket to even up the score and it appeared that the game would go an extra quarter. However, just as the whistle blew Burgess was fouled and with the game in his hands made the extra point which gave S. A. E. the decision.

On the Wednesday previous to the Phi Sig-S. A. E. game P. S. K. defeated K. A. by the score of 30 to 24 to take the championship of League A. This game was rather close during the first part of the game, but the Phi Sig drew steadily away from the K. A.'s as the game progressed. In the final quarter Wells, the star of the K. A.'s, made several baskets in the last few minutes of play to give some added excitement to the game.

This was the second time P. S. K. defeated K. A. this season. Both teams had won 4 and lost 1 game for the season to tie for first place, necessitating a play-off.

Hatchet Sports Editor Picks Five For All-Interfraternity Basketball Team

Phi Sigma Kappa Has Two Men On First Team, S. A. E. One, Sigma Nu And Kappa Alpha Each One. Second Team Also Named And Honorable Mention Given

First team	Pos.	Second team
Burgess (S. A. E.)	F.	Harris (S. P. E.)
Zahn (P. S. K.)	F.	Blaine (S. A. E.)
Sturdevant (K. A.)	C.	Romig (S. N.)
Castell (P. S. K.)	G.	Rigby (S. A. E.)
Brown (S. N.)	G.	Perry (P. S. K.)

Honorable mention: Thompson (S. A. E.), Jaquette (P. S. K.), Vanderford (S. N.), Pomeroy (T. U. O.), Wells (K. A.), Galloway (S. N.), Baldwin (K. S.), Henderson (T. D. X.)

The championship Sigma Alpha Epsilon quint places but one man on the first all-interfraternity team and two more gained places on the second selection. The Phi Sigma Kappa team has two men on the team, while Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha have one each.

Burgess of the Sig Alpha aggregation was by far the most outstanding player of the entire series and he was practically the whole S. A. E. scoring machine. Exceptionally fast, he continually broke for the basket and after receiving a pass from one of his mates chalked up two points for his team. He has had a great deal of experience having been a member of the Central High School quint, when that team was District champion and winner of the annual U. of P. tournament.

In the last game of the Interfraternity series, when the Sig Alpha quint faced the Phi Sig-S. A. E. team, Burgess registered a total of 20 points and scored the winning foul shot, after the final whistle had been blown. He was very adept in foul shooting during the entire contest, making ten shots out of ten tries from the foul line.

Zahn of Phi Sigma Kappa was selected as his team's main play. Though he played center in most of his games, he proved to be an excellent shot and was one of the chief reasons for his team's success. He was his team's high scorer in two of their last three games and his play in the final game stamped him as excellent material for the freshman team this year.

The center position is awarded to Sturdevant, the K. A. center who constantly gave his team a decided advantage by getting the tip-off. He was particularly spectacular in the Kappa Sig game, in which he not only got the tip-off, but found time to chalk up 12 points besides. He was closely romied for this position by Eddie Romig of Sigma Nu, who was also schooled at Central High School.

At the two guard positions we find Dick Castell of Phi Sigma Kappa and Paul Brown of Sigma Nu. Both of these men cover their men well and are noted for their brilliant, hard work. Castell was the captain of Phi Sig quint and is largely responsible for the success of his team. He was also an able scorer and scored 12 points in the S. A. E. game. Brown would also lend a hand in the scoring if his team was in need of a point, though for the most part he played a back court game. Castell was a member of last year's varsity outfit and more than likely will make a strong bid to land a varsity berth during the coming season. Brown is a freshman, coming from Tech High of this city and he doubtless will make a good light to land a position on the freshman team.

The selection on the second team was a great deal harder because of the fact that the five men selected on the first squad stood head and shoulders above the rest of the field. However, Harris of Sigma Phi Epsilon, is assured of a berth due to his unerring eye and he seemingly could shoot from any spot on the floor. The other forward post goes to Blaine of S. A. E., who played as guard, but as he showed scoring ability is given the forward job.

At center is placed Romig, another local product, who played a clever forward game for his team and fed his mates speedily whenever a chance was afforded him. He also guarded his man well.

Rigby of S. A. E., and Perry of Phi

Sigma Kappa are the two guards on the second team.

Match is Scheduled Between Teams Chosen From Varsity, Freshmen, and Alumni

Julian Brylawski has been appointed manager of the Men's Rifle Team for the remainder of the year 1929-1930. Cardon, who was found to be ineligible for this post, has been named assistant manager. These appointments have been definitely announced by Director of Athletics James E. Pike.

A triangular practice match is the next event on the team's program. The three competing squads will represent the varsity, the freshmen, and the alumni, respectively.

Temporary Varsity Named

Harrell H. Parsons, Tomelend, Brylawski, Jackson, Burd, Copeland, Aud, Parsons and Link will represent the varsity. Shaffer and Hanback have been named as alternates. The freshmen will use Seaman, ans, Saunders, Solomon, Middleton, mas, and Erels. Of the alumni, Leighy, Campbell, weomb, Riley, Stokes, Schriker and Parsons will take part. The five high scores shot by each team will count in the standings.

Archery Teams Start Intramural Contests

The Question Marks and the Petticoat Pounders are Winning Teams

Among the first intramural contests to be undertaken in the new sports program for women are the two archery contests, which have been shot off between various teams during the past week.

The Question Marks defeated the He-He Petticoats and the Flying Feathers in a sixty-arrow round by a score of 82, and the Petticoat Pounders defeated the Redskins by 100 points.

The Question Mark team is composed of the following archers: Kate Shapiro, Katherine Dille, Jean Kirkwood, Marjory O'Connor and Marjory Mays.

The members of the Petticoat Pounders, the other winning team, are Carol Simpson, M. Cooper, L. Edwards and V. Gummel.

Bowling Is Scheduled

The intramural committee for women's sports consists of the manager, Mary Hudson; two assistants, Marion Lum and Mary Detweiler; one representative from each sorority and six non-sorority girls.

The representatives are as follows: Athena-Lawton, Delta Zeta; Catherine Palmer, Phi Mu; Grace White, Zeta Tau Alpha; Lee McNeill, Sigma Kappa; Katherine McCallum, non-sorority; Peggy Mays, Chi Omega; Rosalie Reed, Pi Phi; Virginia Conger, non-sorority; Judith Steele, Phi Delta; Cary Aal, non-sorority; Eloise Lindsay, Alpha Delta Theta; Eleanor Coon, non-sorority; Edith McCoy, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Dorothy Ruth, non-sorority; Virginia Witney, Kappa Delta; Janice Burroughs, non-sorority.

Bowling has been scheduled for the month of December. The tournament beginning on December 4, will be played from 7 to 8 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A.

Schedule for the first round of the tournament:

Chi Omega vs. Phi Delta—Wednesday, December 4.
Group No. 5 (D. Ruth) vs. Zeta Tau Alpha—Wednesday, December 4.
Kappa Delta vs. Group No. 3 (Coon)—December 5.
Alpha Delta Pi vs. Alpha Delta Theta—December 5.
Sigma Kappa vs. (winner of No. 5 and Zeta Tau Alpha)—December 6.
Phi Mu vs. Delta Zeta—December 6.
Group No. 4 (Conger) vs. Pi Beta Phi—December 9.
Group No. 2 (Aal) vs. Group No. 1 (McCallum)—December 9.
Group No. 6 (Burroughs) vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma—December 10.

Swimmers Begin Work

Women's swimming at George Washington University is scheduled to begin on Monday, December 2, at the Y. W. C. A. pool, at 3:30 p. m. The entrants will be divided into groups according to ability as swimmers.

Varsity swimming will begin at the same time as interclass and required sport work this year. Those with advanced qualifications will practice for several weeks as a group before a definite selection of varsity material is made.

Required examinations for participation in the sport must be taken by appointment at the Y. W. C. A. A fee of 50 cents for medical service is charged.

Pipes save no midnight oil

IF PIPES made the man, anybody at all could rise in the world just by smoking a few pounds of Edgeworth. But pipes do not make the man.

Men make the pipe—most men do. Somewhat depends on the individual, more on the pipe, and the tobacco is most important of all. Things must be congenial.

Edgeworth is a congenial tobacco, cool, slow-burning, fully flavored. Edgeworth has poise, kindly good nature, real tobacco personality—Edgeworth welcomes new friends. Many a good man has been pledged to pipes by Edgeworth alone.

Like to meet Edgeworth? Just ask with the coupon—and the postman will bring your first few pipefuls of the genuine, three years seasoned if it's a day. Our treat, if you please.

Others have found Edgeworth and quit their discontent.

So may it be with you!

EDGEWORTH

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere — "Ready Rubbed" or "Plug Slice"—15¢ pocket package to pound humidor tin.

COLONIAL YEAR SO FAR JOYLESS

Opponents Have Scored 182 Points to 26 for Pixlee's Men

DICKINSON GAME CLOSEST
 American University Eagles Avenge Defeat of Last Year By 8-0 Win

The Colonials enter the game tomorrow as the underdog, which is easily understood when one reviews their record for the present season. They have played seven games and each one has resulted in a loss for Pixlee's charges.

The Hatchettes have scored only 26 points, the result of four touchdowns and two points after touchdowns. Meanwhile their opponents have registered a total of 182 points.

Manhattan came to Washington to help the Colonials usher in the season and they found little difficulty in turning back the locals by a score of 27-7.

The next Saturday saw the Hatchettes doing battle with their town rivals, the American University Eagles, at the Eastern High School Stadium. The Eagles had been the only team that G. W. had been defeated the year before. The score of this year's game was 8-0.

The next three weeks the Colonials played out of town, meeting Dickinson, C. C. N. Y., and William and Mary on their home grounds. The Dickinson game was a thriller throughout and the Pennsylvanians were returned the victors by the narrow margin of one point, which was the result of a placement kick registered after a touchdown.

The next two games were walk-aways for the opposition, as C. C. N. Y. and William and Mary scored seven and eight touchdowns, respectively. The first game was a 45-0 game, while the score in the other contest was 51-6.

Back on their own field the Colonials played a much better game against a less formidable opponent. They showed an improved brand of ball before bowing 12-7.

The last game played was against Juniata College of Huntingdon, Pa., and resulted in a 32-0 defeat. This was somewhat unexpected after the improved brand of ball exhibited by the Hatchettes the Saturday before.

From the above a clear indication may be obtained why the Colonials are entering the game as the underdog.

CARDINALS WIN HALF OF GAMES

Lose Four Games to Some of Country's Outstanding Elevens

VILLANOVA DEFEATS C. U.
 McAlliffemen Defeat Manhattan College, Conquerors of Colonial Gridmen; Lost to W. & M.

With one of the best teams in the history of the school, the Cardinals only emerged from their first eight games with an even break, having won four and lost the same number.

This strange condition may be blamed upon the strenuous schedule that the team had to face. They met some very strong teams, such as Boston College, who are enjoying one of their best years, Villanova, one of the strongest teams in this section of the country, Manhattan, Duquesne, and William and Mary.

It was unfortunate that they had to encounter Boston College in their first game, but despite that fact, they made an excellent showing and indicated to their followers what to expect for the rest of the season. They were only defeated by one touchdown, 13-6.

Their next two games were with somewhat easier foes, though Mt. St. Mary's annually place a good team on the gridiron. The score of this game was 17-0. Baltimore University fell an easy victim to the hard driving Catholics to the tune of 18-0.

Villanova, who exhibited a great deal of power this season, was the next foe and though McAlliffemen played heads up football they were unequal to the task of stopping the fast, traveling Pennsylvanians and succumbed 12-0.

Getting revenge upon Rutgers for a defeat last year, the Cardinals won one of the most exciting games played on a local field this year by a score of 14-10. This victory was followed by one over Manhattan College of New York City by the score of 19-7. The Colonials had suffered defeat at the hands of this same Manhattan eleven earlier in the season.

The Cardinals then lost their next two games to Duquesne and William and Mary, but this was no disgrace as both universities were represented by great aggregations. Duquesne won with a 19-13 total while the Indians, outplayed in the first half of their game came back to win in the closing stanza by a score of 36-13.

From the above capitulation it can be seen that the Cardinal will enter the engagement on the short end of the odds.

COLONIALS HAVE TWO VICTORIES SINCE 1920

Catholic University Wins Seven Out Of Nine Annual Thanksgiving Day Tilts

The nine previous meetings of the two teams since 1920 has resulted in seven victories for Catholic University and only two for the Buff and Blue Colonials. The last time that the Hatchettes were returned the victors was in 1924, when they won by a score of 14-0.

Previous to 1920 there had been a respite between the two teams due to the war, and when they resumed battle that year the Catholics won by a score of 13-0. This win was followed up with another one the next season by the score of 19-7.

However, in the next game played the following year, the Hatchettes broke into the win column by the score of 14-7. This game was exceptionally close and the winning touchdown was not chalked up until the game was almost over. The next year found C. U. team again on top, this time by a score of 27-0.

The Colonial second victory during this stretch was marked up in 1924 when they managed to register a 14-0 win over the Cardinals. The team was under the direction of John Loehler, one of the best athletes ever turned out by George Washington. This game was the last win scored over the Catholics up to the present time.

Following this victory, the McAlliffemen captured the next two games comparatively easy by scores of 20-0 and 17-9. In 1927 the Colonials entered the contest an outstanding favorite to win, as they had just concluded one of their best seasons. The game was unusually close throughout and hard fought, and the Hatchettes were the victims of several bad breaks that decided the game against them. The score this season was 27-21.

Last year the Crummen were encountered one of their worst seasons and had little chance to win. They did not get started until the game was almost over and were humiliated to the tune of 40-8.

registered a safety in the opening period.

Only three men who started the game last year will be in their same positions when the opening whistle sounded this season. They are Clements at center, McGrew at end, and Clapper in the backfield. It was Clement's first game in that position last year as he was called upon to fill the shoes of Jimmy Carey, who was called home due to the death of his brother. However, Gates, Frazier, and Berkowitz also saw some service last year and are due to start this year.

Colonials Out For Revenge For Last Year's 40-8 Defeat

First Half of Game Closely Contested, But Cardinals Run Wild in Final Session

The Colonials will have an additional incentive to win when they enter the contest tomorrow afternoon as they will recall the defeat that they suffered last season.

Completely outclassed in every department, they fought desperately, but were unequal to the task of stopping a much heavier eleven and went down to defeat by a score of 40-8.

It will be remembered how gamely the more inexperienced Crummen fought and managed to keep the score down during the first half of the contest. This half ended with the score 14-2 in favor of the ultimate winners. The second half was an entirely different story and the Cardinals ran wild against the Hatchettes, chalking up four more touchdowns before the G. W. gridmen could stop the onslaught. The Colonials did finally register a touchdown just before the final whistle halted the proceedings.

The Hatchettes' offensive found Chick Morrow playing the feature roll and this little bit of lightning was very much in evidence all the afternoon. He always played minus a helmet and could easily be distinguished on the field.

Gene Murphy, the C. U. quarterback and Jack Malevitch were the outstanding players on the Catholic team, though Zeno and Gerth proved a thorn in the downtown gridmen's side by repeatedly making brilliant catches of forward passes, thrown by the redoubtable Murphy. Whenever a yard or two was needed for a first down it was Malevitch who was called upon to do the trick and he was usually highly successful.

Several times the G Streeters were within the C. U. five-yard marker, but were never able to shove the pigskin across. Their only score came as a result of a series of forward passes, which placed the ball close to the final chalk mark. Bud Barrow then passed to Red Allshouse over the goal line for the score. The Colonials had also

FROSH TEAM AND C. U. YEARLINGS WILL CLASH

G. W. Freshmen Have Only One Defeat, While Opponents Have Yet To Lose

When the George Washington freshmen trot out on the field of the Catholic University Stadium at 12:30 Thanksgiving Day, they will bear on their ample shoulders the hopes of the school for the first victory over Catholic University since 1924. It is certain that a stellar battle will result, for the Cardinal Frosh have gone through the season without a loss while the Colonial Cubs bowed only to the Western Maryland Yearlings, in a game which they should have won by rights. The same high feeling runs between the freshman teams as exists between the varsities. Incidentally, this will be the first meeting of the Yearling teams since 1926.

A unique program will be followed for this contest. After three quarters of the Frosh game has been played, the varsity will take the field for one half. Then the first game will be finished, followed by the last half of the big game. This is reminiscent of the plan followed at the Naval Academy two weeks ago, although it differs in detail.

It is expected that the line-up will be the same as that which started the Navy game. Vogt and Sturtevant will start at ends, Galloway and O'Brien at tackle, Bagranoff and Aikens at guards, and Crandall at center. The backfield will be composed of Wells at quarter, Carter and Kriemelmeyer as halfbacks, and Carlin at full. Aikens may be replaced by Buffalo, as Aikens has been out due to a bad ankle. The entire line-up is very mobile, and most of the squad is expected to see action.

Colonial Attack Varied

No one can say just how the Colonial offense will attack. From past observation, there seems to be little choice. With the strong forward wall presented by the Colonials, almost any type of attack has functioned to advantage. Kriemelmeyer has shown that he can gain on line plunges, as have Wells and Carlin. Playing an unbalanced line and running plays off the weak side at unexpected moments, the Buff and Blue has made many yards on end runs. A dependable aerial game has been developed around Wells as the passer, with Carter frequently on the receiving end.

Defensively, the Sextonites have shown themselves strong. A six-man line, with Crandall as a roving center has worked almost as smoothly as the offense. The zone defense is employed against forward passing, although once in a while one of the backs has been sucked in and a long gain has resulted.

Frosh Down Formidable Foes In Successful Year

Defeat Georgetown Frosh And Navy Squads; Only One Loss In Entire Season

For the first time since 1927, a George Washington football team has experienced a successful season. The Colonial frosh have played their schedule, except for one game and have dropped only one game; and that by one point. Included among those victories was a triumph over a Georgetown team, no small feat in itself, but magnified by far because the game was played on the famous Hilltop, where Georgetown seldom loses.

This Georgetown game was the opening one of the season. From the kickoff when Otis Kriemelmeyer ran 80 yards for a touchdown, victory was assured. The final result was 20-0.

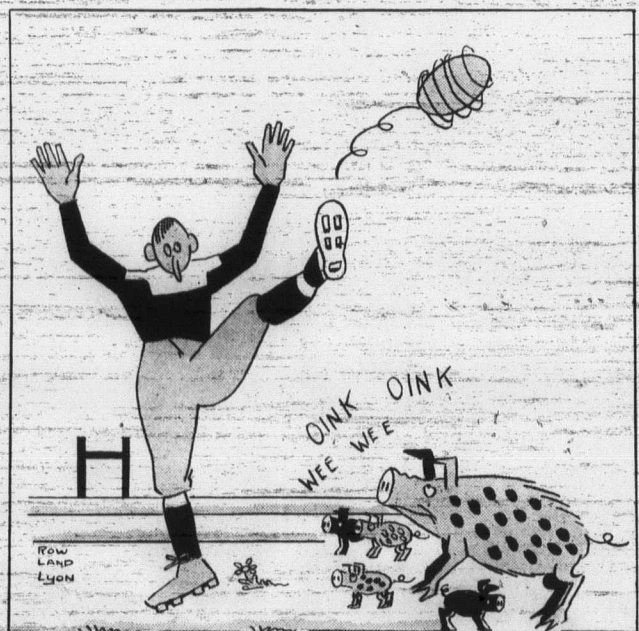

When the frosh met Western Maryland, a different result was found, the yearling outfit went down by one point, after they fumbled on the 7-yard line with a touchdown in sight. This was the slowest game of the season, from the spectators' viewpoint.

The following week the squad journeyed out to College Park to tackle the Maryland University Junior Varsity. Here they scored an unexpectedly easy win by a score of 32 to 19.

When the Johns Hopkins frosh game rolled around the strength of the Buff and Blue was brought out with a bang. The Colonials ran roughshod over the boys from Baltimore, and when the smoke had cleared away, the victory was in the bag for G. W. to a tune of 88-0.

The Emerson game gave a comparison of the power of the Buff and Blue team with the local prep schools. The Emerson lads were smashed in a rough game which almost broke into a fight.

At Annapolis, where the frosh met the Naval "B" squad, they again won handsily. There the score was 19 to 0. This was a closer game than the score would seem to indicate, and the Colonial Cubs were forced to rely on their aerial attack to emerge victorious.

MUSICAL SHOW NEARS OPENING

Cast and Chorus of Troubadours
Looks to Opening on December 12

HITS OF SHOW BROADCAST

Stars Present Several Numbers at College Students' Banquet at Calvary Baptist Church

With regular rehearsals under the direction of Dennis Connell, the Troubadour show, "Gypsy in Egypt" is rapidly beginning to take shape. The cast and dancing choruses are redoubling their efforts with only two weeks left before the opening of the show at the McKinley High School Auditorium.

The individuals in the cast are well selected for their parts, and they are beginning to display admirable histrionic abilities. The dancing choruses are beginning to show snap and pep in their numbers. The rich variety of tunes and lyrics offers opportunity for every kind of voice and personality. There have been some startling developments by way of voice and personality since rehearsals began. The show gives promise of being the best Troubadour production yet.

The "Nile Love Song," by Bill Jemison, and "Must I Forget," by Dan Beattie, are the sentimental song hits of the show. "How Do You Get That Way," by Dan Beattie, and "Mustaphagott," by Bill Jemison, are the comedy screams. "Hey-He" is the peepiest dance number.

The signs reading "Watch the Troubadours" posted all over the campus sound the first challenge of the approaching opening of the show. The show has also been getting advertisement by its broadcasts over WJSV every Monday night from 7:30 to 8:00. On Saturday afternoon some of the members of the cast sang a few of the song hits over WMAL. On Tuesday night the cast entertained the College Students' Banquet at Calvary Baptist Church with hits from the show.

HARRISONBURG TEAM DEFEATS G. W. CO-EDS

Hockey Squad Plays As It Loses To Teachers' College 6-0

Hindered by a snow-covered field, the Colonial hockey team put up a plucky fight before it finally succumbed to a 6-0 defeat at the hands of the team of the Teachers' College at Harrisonburg on Saturday, November 23.

Little real dribbling could be attempted as the field was very uneven and slippery.

There was no marked advantage for either team during the opening moments of the game. Each team managed to advance the ball toward the other's goal by a series of passes, only to have the play broken up by an opposing back.

Benenson, G. W. left full, played an unusually good game, but was handicapped by the absence of Zimmerman, the regular varsity fullback, who was unable to reach Harrisonburg because of the unexpected snowfall.

Turnbull, the Colonial captain, besides playing her position at center half excellently, assisted materially in advancing the ball toward the Harrisonburg goal. Josephine Frey and Mary Sprout also deserve mention.

Garrison, Watt and Bowen were the outstanding players for Harrisonburg, each scoring two goals.

Summary:

Harrisonburg	C. F.	G. W.
Bowers (capt.)	R. I.	Sprout
Watt	L. A.	Chindolson
Garrison	R. W.	Reed
Bowen	L. W.	Irey
Wilson	C. H.	Turnbull (capt.)
Quisenberry	R. H.	Martin
Sullivan	L. H.	Kyle
Fahrenholt	R. F.	Benenson
Duke	L. F.	Corea
Ralston	Goal
Smith

Goals (H): Watt (2), Garrison (2), Bowen (2). Substitutions (G. W.): Von Lemwinski for Aal. Officials: Mrs. Haugen and J. Farrier.

Draper Chosen Head Of G. W. History Club

Elsie Green Gives Illustrated Talk
On Visits to Various Italian
Cities

W. Curtis Draper was elected president of the History Club of the George Washington University at a meeting held on Tuesday evening, November 19, in Corcoran Hall 27. The other officers elected are: Mildred Conklin, vice president; Mildred Green, recording secretary; Charles Berto, treasurer; Anne Rosenthal, publicity secretary; and Elizabeth Fielden, corresponding secretary. These officials will hold office for the current school year.

At the same meeting, in which officers were elected, the club and visitors were entertained with an illustrated lecture by Elsie Green, a graduate student and local teacher, who has done much studying and traveling in Europe. She gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Italy. She described in particular her visits to Rome, Florence, Venice, and Naples.

Dr. Charles Clinton Swisher, Professor Emeritus of History, and after whom the club was named, was present and made a few interesting remarks concerning his trip through the West during the past summer.

The next meeting of the History Club will be held on Tuesday, December 17.

Columbian Debaters Lose Heated Contest

Congressman Schafer Heads Judges
In Awarding Prizes to Fiery,
Bombastic Filipinos

The Columbian Debating Society of George Washington University lost gloriously to the Filipino Club of Washington on Friday, November 22, at the assembly hall of the Y. M. C. A., at Eighteenth and G Streets N. W., in a most spirited debate on the subject, "Resolved, That the free importation of Philippine goods to the United States be stopped."

The affirmative side was taken by the Columbian Debating Society. A large number of university students and a representative number of the memberships of the two clubs, as well as many interested visitors, packed the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

Congressman John C. Schafer, of Wisconsin, Prof. M. P. Omohundro, Mrs. Cole, Mr. Davis, of the Department of Labor, and Mr. Reed, of the Cadillac Company, were the judges who awarded the prizes to the negative side. The prizes were books written by Commissioner Oslas of the Philippines.

Clubs Well Represented

Paul Keough, Ralph Morgali, and James G. Wingo represented Columbian, while Jose de Jesus, Juan Quijano and Mauro Baradi debated for the Filipino Club.

The discussion involved a consideration of the economic status of the Philippine Islands, their political independence and the relative proportion of exports and imports of Philippine products.

It was pointed out by the fiery, bombastic, impassioned speakers of the negative that American colonial policy in the Orient as determined by American attitude towards the Philippines would influence American commercial supremacy in the Far East. They also stated that the imposition of duties on Philippine goods would be unjust unless self-government were granted the Philippines.

"Inconsistent," Says Affirmative

The Columbian men maintained that the Philippine demand of American protection and Philippine independence were inconsistent. To ask for one would be to forego the other. Keough, Morgali, and Wingo hammered their opponents forcefully with that argument.

Preceding the rebuttal, Jose Carballo played two violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Cesar Carballo at the piano. The chello, which was some what of a musical novelty to the Americans in the audience, is a one-stringed instrument with tonal qualities similar to the violin and cello.

Other musical numbers on the evening's program included a series of vocal solos by Miss Marjorie De La Mater, with Mrs. John De La Mater as accompanist.

An announcement regarding the purposes and program of the Columbian Debating Society was made by Ralph Morgali, who invited all who were interested in debating to attend the meetings of the society, which are held every Friday evening in Room 15, of Corcoran Hall.

Angel Presides

The banquet, as well as the sessions of the convention, was presided over by Herbert E. Angel, Chairman of the Board of Editors of The Hatchet and president of the association. Brief addresses on various phases of journalism marked the banquet. Dean Doyle spoke on "College Journalism and Public Opinion." Thomas L. Donohue, instructor in Journalism at Polytechnic Institute, of Brooklyn, on "Why I Gave Up Newspaper Work." Gideon Lyon, Associate Editor of The Evening Star, on "Japanese Journalism." Lowell Mellett, Editor of The Washington Daily News, presented the awards.

Following the banquet the student journalists were the guests of the management of the Earle Theater. The program of the convention began Friday afternoon with a business meeting in Corcoran Hall, to which the delegates were welcomed by Provost William Allen Wilbur. This session and a similar one on Saturday morning were devoted to a discussion of college newspaper problems. Among the subjects discussed were the handling of sensational student stories, extra issues for emergency situations, methods of increasing circulation and advertising, and the stand a college paper should take upon a question on which the faculty and student body differ.

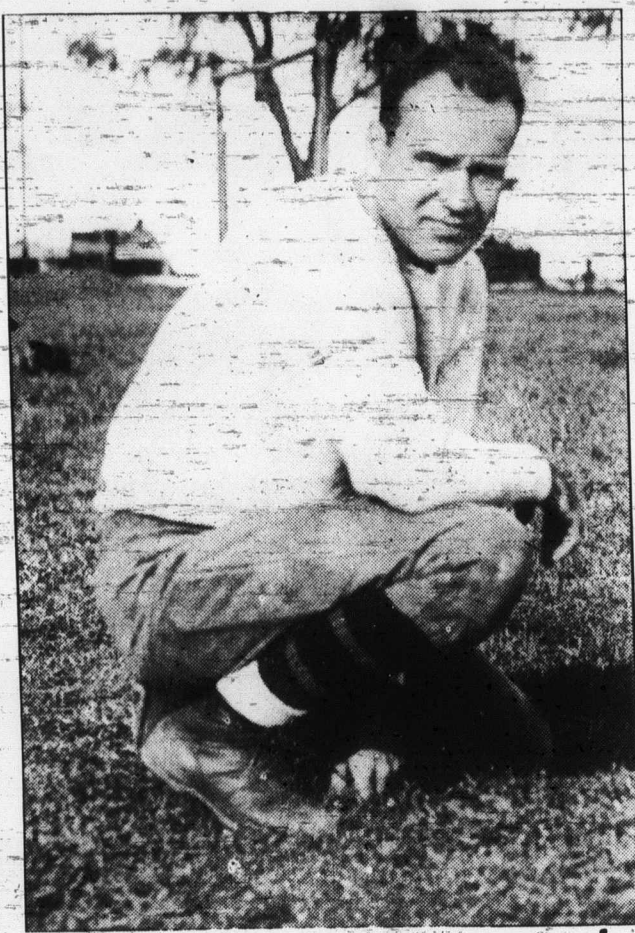

After the Saturday session the student journalists were given luncheon as guests of the University, and then proceeded on a sight-seeing tour of the city.

Stay at Frat Houses

Immediately upon their arrival at George Washington, the delegates were registered by the Secretary-Treasurer of the association, Harold Jenkins, business manager of The Hatchet, and their accommodation arranged for at the following sorority and fraternity houses: Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha, Theta Delta Chi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Acacia and Omicron Alpha Tau.

Sixteen Colleges

Sixteen colleges of the association were able to send 35 delegates in all to the convention. The college papers represented were: The Albright, of Albright College, of Myerstown, Pa.; Polytechnical Reporter, of Brooklyn

Bill Ingram, Navy Coach, who will speak at Football Banquet, Dec. 10.

TRYOUTS FOR MEN'S DEBATING TEAM SOON

Disarmament Is Subject To Be Debated Throughout Season;
Several Trips Planned

Professor W. Hayes Yeager, of the Department of Public Speaking has announced that tryouts for the men's debating team will be held in Corcoran Hall, room 23, on Thursday, December 5. The subject chosen for the tryouts will be "Resolved: That the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except such forces as are needed for police purposes. This proposition will be debated by the men's team throughout the season with the exception of the debate to be held with a team of Chinese students for Harvard University.

Contestants must have a prepared speech of not more than four minutes duration on either side of the proposition as stated. All persons regardless of previous membership on the University debating teams will be required to attend and give a main speech in competition with the newcomers. The merits of the presentation will be judged by a committee composed of Prof. Yeager as chairman, Andrew C. Wilkins, alumnus member of the Debate Council, and an unnamed person.

Attractive Schedule

An attractive schedule of debates has been tentatively arranged by the Debate Council. Several debates will be held here and at least two trips for the team have been outlined. The first schedule provides for a visit to several universities in North Carolina and Virginia, while the second will include several of the leading universities in and around Boston, Massachusetts.

Candidates for positions on the varsity teams will be given an ample opportunity to demonstrate their qualifications and any special ability. It was pointed out by Professor Yeager that under the system being introduced this year, everyone will have an equal chance to show his capabilities as a debater and for this reason he expressed the hope that a large number of the students interested in forensic activities will appear and make an effort for a place on the team.

An interesting subject has been selected for the debate with the Harvard team of the Chinese Debate Council, namely, "Resolved: That the Chinese philosophy of life is more conducive to human happiness than the American." This debate will not be held until the coming spring, but the subject has already created genuine interest in debating circles. The Chinese students are said to be very effective speakers and have been accorded favorable recognition on every hand. This debate will be, in a sense, an international contest and will be held in lieu of any foreign debates this year at George Washington.

G. W. U. Alumni To Honor Hodgkins, Gore and Swisher

Luncheon To Be Tendered For Two Distinguished Alumni and History Professors of G. W.

George Washington University alumni will honor three of the University's eminent scholars on Saturday, November 30, when they will give a luncheon at the Hotel Lafayette, at which Dean Howard Lincoln Hodgkins, Dean of the University, Dr. James Howard Gore, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics, and Dr. Charles Clinton Swisher, Professor Emeritus of History, will be the guests of honor and speakers.

Through long service at the University these men are endeared to hundreds of George Washington alumni. Two of them, Dean Hodgkins and Dr. Gore, are themselves alumni of the University.

Dean Hodgkins holds the degree of A. B., A. M., and Ph. D., from George Washington. He has been a member of the faculty since 1893, serving successively as Professor of Mathematics and Physics, Dean of the College of Engineering, Dean of the Department of Arts and Sciences, Acting President and, since 1923, Dean of the University. He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the American Mathematical Society, American Physical Society, Mathematical Association of America, Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and American Forestry Association. He is the author of a history of The George Washington University.

Dr. Gore holds the degrees of B. S. and Ph. D., from The George Washington University. Honorary degrees have been conferred upon him by Georgetown University, Richmond University, and George Washington. From 1883 to 1909, he was Professor of Mathematics in The George Washington University. He has served the United States Government as astronomer of the Geological Survey and civilian expert of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and, in the international field, as Commissioner-General to the International exhibitions at Antwerp, Amsterdam, Brussels, St. Louis, and Liege; as United States delegate at six international congresses. Dr. Gore has been decorated by many foreign governments, including Belgium, Bulgaria, Holland, France, Rumania, Siam, Spain and Sweden.

Dr. Charles Clinton Swisher holds the degrees of A. B. from Yale University, L. L. B. from Columbia University, and Ph. D. from Cornell University. He has studied in Berlin, Heidelberg, and Paris. From 1896 to 1927, he was Professor of History in The George Washington University. Dr. Swisher has traveled extensively in all quarters of the globe, visiting Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and South America. A number of years of his romantic career were spent in Mexico and South America as a coffee planter. He was commissioned by President Diaz of Mexico, to study the condition of coffee production in other countries and the possibilities of the eucalyptus for Mexican planting.

Dr. Oscar Benwood Hunter, President of the General Alumni Association of the University, will preside at the luncheon, which will start at 12:30 o'clock. Tickets may be secured at the hotel desk.

FOOTBALL MEN HONORED AT BANQUET ON DEC. 10

composed of some of the best talent in the University who have volunteered to put on several clever acts during the course of the evening.

The coaching staff will be represented on the program by the man who has just taken over the reins of the University's athletic department, James E. Pixlee. Coach Pixlee will give a short talk on the local situation and explain the plans and prospective schedule for the 1930 season. The latter point will be received eagerly by the diners as well as by the rest of the University who are already awaiting the announcement of next year's schedule that will greet this year's freshman eleven.

During the banquet there will be a presentation of athletic insignia to the players of the two teams. It is generally understood that the varsity players will receive sweaters with the block "W," while the freshman players will also be awarded sweaters with their numerals. A list of the men who have won these honors is to be released after the Catholic University game, the last of the season.

Committee Named

Working in conjunction with President Marvin and Coach Pixlee on the committee in charge of plans for the Football Banquet are members of the Colonial Club including Jack Dishman, George Von Dachenhausen, Bucky Herzog and Don Iglehart. The special committee handling the tickets include the following: Russel Combs of Theta Delta Chi, Scott Rigby of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Floyd Pomeroy of Theta Upsilon Omega, Bill Snow of Sigma Chi, Charlie Cole of Delta Tau Delta, Norment Hawkins of Kappa Sigma, Jack Highsmith of Kappa Alpha, Bob Gray of Phi Sigma Kappa, Arthur Davis of Sigma Phi Epsilon, "Scratch" Farmer of Sigma Nu, and James Fleck of Acacia.

TRACK NOTICE

Lettermen from last year's track squad may secure their G. W. certificates at the Athletic Director's office in the gymnasium.

DOYLE ATTENDS JUNIOR COLLEGE CONFERENCE

Head of Lower School of Columbian
College Gains Information at Tenth Annual Meeting

While emphasizing the fact that the junior college is an institution quite separate from the lower school division in large universities, Dean Henry G. Doyle, head of the lower school of Columbian College, asserts that he gained much information at the tenth annual meeting of the American Association of Junior Colleges at Atlantic City, November 19-20, which will be of great aid to him in his administration as dean of our lower division.

The junior college movement, according to Dean Doyle, started in California and from there has spread all over the country. It has now received nation-wide recognition as giving the equivalent of the first two years of college work.

Presented by noted speakers, among whom were Hon. William J. Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education, L. W. Smith, Superintendent of Schools, Berkeley, Calif., and Henry Suzzallo from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the topics of the meeting embraced such subjects as "The Development of the Junior College," "A Study of Junior College Standards," "Future Opportunities of the Movement," "Student Activities in the Junior College," and "The Training of Junior College Teachers."

As the representative of the American Council of Education, of which he is secretary, Dean Doyle will attend the gathering of the association of the colleges and preparatory schools of the Middle Western States and Maryland, on Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving.

C. U. GAME IS SCHEDULED AT BROOKLAND STADIUM

Many New Plays

The Colonials are a fast and light aggregation, but in spite of this lightness they have shown a wonderful fighting spirit in every game that they have played this season. They have been drilling unusually hard of late so as to show-up to best advantage in the big game of the year. The coaches have kept their charges on the field each evening until darkness forced them to stop, in an effort to have the men in the finest condition possible and on their toes during the entire contest.

Many new plays have been worked out by the coaching staff and these are taught to the gridmen in the numerous skull practices that have been held throughout the past week.

The game will more than likely be decided by the aerial route and the fans should witness some mighty fine passes tomorrow afternoon. Babe Clapper, who has recovered from the minor injury he received in the Juniata contest, has proved to his coaches that he has regained his former adeptness at hurling the pigskin, and he is expected to be at his best tomorrow. Lefty Adams and Sammy Berkowitz can also throw the oval with great skill and are ready if they are called upon in the fray.

The Cardinals have made a great deal of use of this method of attack in all of their games this year. It may be remembered that last year the Catholics started in this line of attack with Gene Murphy doing the greater part of the passing. He was injured earlier in the season, but is again in shape and will start the contest at his regular post.

G. W. to Use Same Line-up

With Clapper at fullback and Berkowitz at quarter, Gates and Hoffman will fill in the halfback positions to round out the backfield. However, it is not unlikely that Jack Perry, who has recently recovered from an attack of the grip and Bab Adams will get into part of the game, replacing one of the halfbacks.

Steel McGrew will start the game in his accustomed place at end and he is expected to continue the excellent work that has featured his play all year. During the past week he has been kicking in great form, sending the ball around fifty yards consistently. Francis will hold down the other end position, though Copeland and Young may see service at his position before the game is completed.

At the tackle positions will be found B. Miller and Shipert, both of whom saw service for the first time in the Juniata game. They are both big men who are fairly fast despite their height. West, who was a regular tackle at the start of the season, is expected to be ready to step into the fray in case either of the first two mentioned should weaken.

Victory Needed

Coach Connaughton has not definitely decided who to start in the guard posts, but Boyle, Abbe, and Frazier are all certain to play a part of the contest. Abbe may see some service at tackle. Rocko Clements will again play center, a position he has filled since the opening of the year. He is a clever snapperback as well as a creditable man on the defense.

Three months of playing and drilling has brought the team to the objective of the entire season and it is hoped that the Hatchettes will at last show their supporters that their trust has not been misplaced. A victory or even a creditable showing will make the student body forget the early reversals in the joy of downing their ancient rivals.

NEWMAN CLUB HEARS REFORMATION HISTORY

Connolly, Knapp and McGuire Are Elected to Serve on Advisory Board

In an interesting talk before the Newman Club, Dr. John K. Cartwright outlined the history of the Reformation in Europe, tracing the moral, political, and economic forces which crystallized the movement. He emphasized the fact that the period was one of marked change in institutions and not an outburst of new ideas.

The dominant factor pervading the period was of a political nature and grew out of the desire for wealth and power, said Dr. Cartwright. The moral and religious force, while only secondary and incidental to the real issue, did, however, exert a real influence, and was represented by many sincere and able men as John Calvin and Martin Luther. Dr. Cartwright pointed to the fact that many of the princes, through desire to strengthen their political positions, became bishops of the new doctrines and were known as prince-bishops. In concluding, Dr. Cartwright brought out the influence of the Reformation in shaping our modern period.

In accordance with a provision in the Constitution of the Newman Club, three active members shall be selected by a vote of the club to serve on the Advisory Board, the duties of which are to advise the president in any matters concerning the club and to study and report back to the club any question which shall be submitted to it by a vote of that body.

At a brief business meeting last Thursday evening, the following members were selected to serve in this capacity: Helen Connolly, one of the founders of the Newman Club; Ignatius Knapp, Past President, and Louise McGuire, charter member.

Debating Tryouts By Women Held Friday

Professor Yeager Announces That Several Vacancies Remain To Be Filled

On Friday evening, November 22, tryouts were held in Corcoran Hall in room 29 for positions on the Women's Debating Team of George Washington University. The contestants, speaking on the subject of Resolved: That the present tendency to educate the masses should be discouraged, spoke for a period of four minutes and were judged as to subject matter and delivery.

The judges of the contest were Kathleen Duggan, national secretary of Delta Sigma Rho (national honorary debating fraternity), Prof. E. C. Arnold, of the G. W. Law School, Prof. Gilbert L. Hall, lecturer in law, and Prof. W. Hayes Yeager, Dewey Professor of public speaking, all of whom are members of the Debate Council.

Those who were selected to represent the University on the first team were Louise Feinstein, Myrtle Wilson, Elizabeth Reeves, Virginia Frye, and Sarah Abelles. Alternates and additional members will be added following a subsequent tryout.

It is expected that a larger number will qualify at the next meeting which will be held at a date set by the judges. All women students who are interested in winning a place on the debating team may interview Prof. Yeager, who is chairman of the debate council, in Building L, from 4:30 to 5:00 p. m. any school day.

BRIDGE PLAY-OFF SOON

The Intersorority Bridge Tournament is nearing a close with Alpha Delta Theta winners of League A, and the deciding game for League B to be played soon between Delta Zeta and Chi Omega. Delta Zeta and Chi Omega are playing off a tie, and the winner will play Alpha Delta Theta some time this week.

Intramural Activities Promoted By Banquet

Ruth Perry, Director of Physical Education of Hood College, Will Be Principal Speaker

To promote the interest in intramural activities for women in the University, a fall sports banquet will be given on Tuesday, December 3, at 7:30, in the Lee House.

The W. A. A. is sponsoring three banquets this year, one for fall, winter and spring sports, respectively. At each occasion, the awards will be given and the members of the teams honored for that particular season.

Ruth Perry, director of physical education at Hood College will be the featured speaker of the evening, and her talk will be of greatest interest to all girls interested in the development of intramural sports in George Washington. Eline von Borries, director of physical education at Goucher College, will also speak.

All girls who have taken part in any athletic activity this fall are cordially invited and urged to attend. This includes archery, soccer, hockey, tennis, and rifle girls, either taking their sport as a requirement, or out of interest alone.

The tickets for the banquet are $1.50, and can be obtained at any time through the Physical Education Office.

Richardson To Speak

On Thanksgiving morning Dr. Edward E. Richardson, professor of philosophy at George Washington University, will deliver a Thanksgiving address at a special union service to be held in the Congress Heights Methodist Church.

The following day, November 29, he will speak on the "Educational Needs of the Southeast" before a joint meeting of the Anacostia Citizens Association and the Parent Teachers Association in the Anacostia Masonic Temple.

Dr. Richardson, who is chairman of the educational committee of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, spoke on November 21 before the association on the educational situation in America today.

Y. W. Sponsors Basket

Under the auspices of the Social Committee of the Y. W. C. A. a Thanksgiving basket for a poor family is being filled with food and clothing brought to the Women's Building on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Any contributions may be turned in to Roberta Wright today or placed in the barrel in the Women's Building.

BASKETBALL TO BEGIN

Basketball practice for women at George Washington commences on Monday, December 2, in the gymnasium, according to Helen Lawrence, who will coach the basketers this winter.

Class practices will be held for freshmen on Monday at 2 o'clock, for sophomores on Tuesday at 2 o'clock, for juniors on Thursday at 2 o'clock, and for seniors on Friday at 2 o'clock. Each girl participating in interclass basketball is required to attend two practice hours every week.

Entrants on the varsity basketball field will play on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday at 1 o'clock, and on Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Required practices for varsity material are two a week.

FOREIGN CLUB TO MEET

The International University Club will hold its first informal social of the season on Saturday, November 23, at 8 p. m. A short business meeting will also be held at this time. Plans for the coming year, arrangements for permanent club quarters, and a proposed affiliation between all International Clubs in the city will be discussed.

After the meeting refreshments will be served and the rest of the evening will be devoted to informal entertainment and discussion. As usual the club invites all foreign students and interested American students to attend this social.

ART STUDENT SPEAKS AT PARK HIGH SCHOOL

G. W. Graduate Student and Painter Traces Development of Painting

Felix Conrad Schwarz, graduate student in George Washington University, delivered a series of lectures on the History and Appreciation of Art at the Maryland Park High School last week.

Mr. Schwarz asserted that "Art is man's nearest approach to immortality." For, the moving finger of pictorial art has traced the thought, the observations and fancies of man since the dawn of his mind; and the finger of Art moves on, sometimes clumsily, blindly, sometimes blurred by the tears of the critics or obscured by their praise; but always in a language that outlives all other languages.

Mr. Schwarz traced the evolution of pictorial art by using, as illustrations, reproductions of representative paintings.

Mr. Schwarz, who is a graduate of the Corcoran School of Art and of the George Washington School of Education, was teaching assistant in our Division of Fine Arts in 1925-27. And, while at the University, he painted portraits of a number of the faculty, including Professors Schmidt, Swisher, Ragatz, Benet and Baker. Some of these portraits were exhibited at the U. S. National Gallery, attracting favorable comment of foreign critics.

A. A. U. W. Addressed By Dr. Lowell Ragatz

"Background of World Court" Is Main Subject of Discussion

Dr. Lowell Ragatz addressed the Washington Branch of the American Association of University Women on Tuesday, November 26, covering a series of pertinent points dealing with international relations and modern imperialism under the subject of the "Background of the World Court."

The main points which he developed in this talk were the outstanding causes of conflict between the various powers in the last century, and the growing feeling that such disputes should be settled peaceably rather than by war. He touched on a history of the early attempts at arbitration; and The Hague Tribunal. He then took up the development of the World Court and what it is hoped it will accomplish, and in conclusion covered America's relation to the World Court.

DR. MEARS PRESENTS "DIVERGENT SERIES"

"Divergent Series" which are banished from texts on college algebra were given a warm reception at the Mathematics Club on November 18 when they were discussed by Dr. Florence M. Mears, a recent acquisition of the Mathematics Department. Dr. Mears explained the artificial "sums" invented by Euler, Cesaro, Holder, Norlund and Borel which placed the exiles on an equal footing with the convergent series. These definitions assign a finite number as the artificial "sum" of a divergent series which actually has an unlimited sum, and they reduce to the ordinary sum for convergent series.

Dr. Mears showed how all the methods are derivable from a triangular matrix. Her exposition was remarkably clear and it was replete with examples of numerical series.

At the next meeting of the Mathematics Club on Monday, December 2, Dr. Tobias Dantzig, professor of mathematics at the University of Maryland, will lecture on "The Evolution of the Concept of Infinity."

DR. STANG ADDRESSES CIVIL ENGINEER GROUP

The November meeting of The George Washington University Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, was held on the evening of the thirteenth at the Bureau of Standards. Dr. Stang, who is in charge of the testing of fabricated models of members of the Hudson River and Kill Van Kull bridges, projected by the New York Harbor Commission, gave very interesting and instructive descriptions of the tests and the results obtained, preceded by an historical sketch of the progress of the building of suspension bridges in this country. Thirty-five interested students, several guests, and Dean Lapham were present.

FROSH ENJOY WORKOUT

Men's freshman and sophomore gym classes are finally down to the size where they can be worked with ease, and real work has started.

Coach Jean Sexton had his charges out in uniform Thursday and they enjoyed a half-hour of lively basketball practice. Real calisthenics and hard exercises are promised soon by Sexton.

ADDRESS BY SCHOENFELD

Arthur Schoenfeld, secretary-general of the commission on the Bolivian-Paraguayan Boundary Dispute, talked to Dean Hill's class in International Law, on this boundary question. Mr. Schoenfeld was a former instructor in history under Dr. Swisher, several years ago, and is the son of Professor Schoenfeld, who taught German at this University in former years.

W. A. A. MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting of all members of the Women's Athletic Association is to be held this evening, at which all members are required to be present. Corinne Fraser, women's sports reporter on the Evening Star, and specialist in women's athletics, will be present to address the meeting.

Cues, Curtain Calls and Clinches

COLUMBIA

"The Taming of the Shrew" a Pickford-Fairbanks fantasy, is playing at the Columbia this week. News had been circulated that in the Fairbanks studio fire everything except one copy of this film had been destroyed, but here we have the picture. So much for publicity.

A really lavish and colorful portrayal of Shakespeare's classic is this production. Costumes that make us wonder if, after all, "decent" clothes are the most effective, fair voices, and splendid action characterize the success of scenes.

Mary Pickford makes a lovable shrew, even though this detracts rather than adds to the picture as a whole. Fairbanks, however, is in his glory in his refined role. Quite worth seeing, say we.

EARLE

All the thrills, glamor and romance of a college football season are promised in the current program at the Earle Theater, which is celebrating college week with presentation of "The Forward Pass," the first National Vitaphone epic of the gridiron and campus.

As a special in the college week program, the Stafford Pemberton dancers, in the various college colors, will be seen in a dazzling stage feature. A quartet and a cheerleader to the campus spirit, and the Earle Symphony Orchestra will help to stir up this jolly concoction of fun with a special overture of college songs, arranged by Daniel Breeskin, conductor.

"The Forward Pass" is the story of a quarterback who developed "yellow" tendencies and had them knocked out of him in a novel and effective manner. The shrewd coach and the campus flirt had a great deal to do with it.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Loretta Young, head the cast, while Guinn "Peanuts" Williams, Byron, Helen Lane, Phyllis Crane and others are seen in important roles.

Supplementary hits will include the Vitaphone varieties and The Evening Star Universal and Pathe Newsreels.

FOX

Cute little Janet Gaynor appears at the Fox in "Sunny Side Up." Charles Farrell supports her, (that is in the picture). Janet takes a different role than usual—she is shown as a peppy dancing and singing show girl—and she puts it over too. El Brendel, former vaudeville star, appears in this lively musical comedy, and also Sharon Lynn, Frank Richardson and Marjorie White of Broadway fame.

The show is lively and entertaining. There is one scene that is especially worthy of note—the chorus girls get so "hot" the darn scene is totally enveloped in flames; it's a fact—go see for yourself. (A good tip for the troubadour production) "Sunny Side Up" is hot enough and bright enough for anybody. It's a darn good show.

"California Capers" is the stage feature. There is some extra good dancing and singing. Johnny Fisher is still leading 'em on. Give us more piano recitals, John Deah, that's your cake, so share it—we're cake-eaters for piano music. D. C. B.

KEITH'S

"Rio Rita," Flo Ziegfeld's brilliant and tuneful operetta stays for a third week at this theater. Bebe Daniels and John Boles are great in the leading roles. And can they sing? We knew John Boles could, but Bebe gave us a surprise in her rendition of the many song hits of the production. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are hilariously funny in their effervescent, singing and dancing comedy roles. One scene especially, in which they are "plenty plastered" is a riot! The picture is almost an exact reproduction of the stage play, with all the extravagance of costume and background. Natural color is used in many scenes, creating a beautiful effect, and setting off Bebe's vivid beauty to a great advantage. We recommend "Rio Rita" as one of the best shows in town.

R. K. O. has a clever orchestra—they need only a "jerry" to complete their comical renditions to perfection. The boys are really hot!

LITTLE

"The Last Performance," a Universal production, directed by Dr. Paul Fejos, director of "Broadway," and starring Conrad Veidt, noted character actor, and Mary Phibbin, is the current attraction at the Little Theater.

"The Last Performance" is the story of a noted magician who has fallen in love with his feminine assistant, many years younger. During the performance of a sword trick another assistant is mysteriously murdered while lying in the false bottom of the basket in which the swords are stuck. There is a dramatic trial scene and a stirring denouement.

In addition to Veidt and Miss Phibbin, others in the cast are Leslie Fenton, Fred Mackaye, Gustave Partos, William H. Turner, Anders Randolph, Sam De Grasse and George Irving.

METROPOLITAN

Harold Lloyd's first talking picture, one of the funniest, most exciting comedies he has ever made, will be seen at the Metropolitan Theater this week. It is called "Welcome Danger" and is a side-splitting story of girls, gangsters and gunplay.

Washington film fans will discover for the first time that Harold has a good voice and knows how to use it effectively. The dialogue and sound are said to enhance to a marked degree his ability for pantomimic expression.

"Welcome Danger" concerns a Boston youth, trained in botany, whose unintentional heroism wins him a place as successor to his late father as chief of police in San Francisco. En route to the West Coast he runs into hair-raising experiences and also into a romance. But, once on the coast, entrusted with the job of vanquishing the Oriental gangsters and their American confederates, the action reaches fever heat and complications fairly tumble over themselves in a mad, merry rush toward the climax.

Lloyd is supported by a capable cast, including Barbara Kent, Noah Young, Charles Middleton and William Walling.

The comedy will be supplemented by a selected number of shorter features.

PALACE

Marion Davies, dancing and singing in a musical comedy of the American Expeditionary Force, "Marianne," is the screen attraction at Loew's Palace this week. Lawrence Gray, Cliff Edwards (Ukulele Ike), Benny Rubin, Robert Edson and George Baxter appear in the cast of this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. The picture has seven song hits, a dough boy choruses, comedy by Benny Rubin and Cliff Edwards and is heralded as a personal triumph for Marion.

The story concerns a French peasant girl who falls in love with an American Expeditionary Force dough-boy, who is on his way home after the war. Just as she is to accept his proposal of marriage, her old soldier lover returns, blinded by the war. Moved by pity and remorse Marianne resolves to marry and care for the blind man and send the doughboy away. Sensing her love of the American, the gallant French soldier takes priestly vows, thus freeing Marianne so she may go to her real sweetheart.

On the stage, Al Evans appears in his "Farewell Week," with the Palace Syncopators in the presentation, "Showland," which features the Gaudin Brothers, the Rio Brothers, Helen Kennedy, Florio Vestoff, Woods Miller, Edith Rogers, and the Dorthea Berke Girls. The Hearst Metrophone News, the Palace Orchestra, short subjects and Charles Gaiety at the organ will complete the program.

RIALTO

A rollicking comedy depicting a young couple's efforts to get on in the world, "Skinner Steps Out," a talking comedy feature is this week's attraction at the Rialto Theater. Glenn Tryon is starred in it, by Universal, hero at home and a "dub" at the office with Merna Kennedy.

Skinner is a young man who is a fice, and Tryon makes the role a tale of humor, admirably relieved at intervals by flashes of poignant pathos. Miss Kennedy plays the part of the young wife, who, through unquestioning belief in her husband's ability, finally makes a social and business success of him. A capable cast includes E. J. Ratcliffe, Burr McIntosh, Lloyd Whitlock, William Welsh, Katherine Kerrigan, Frederick Lee, Jack Lipson, and Edna Marian.

William J. Craft, who has wielded the megaphone on many of Tryon's pictures, directed, "Skinner Steps Out," which is based on one of the
